Fostering Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

workshops with live theater & audience participation

A project sponsored by the Berkeley Initiative for Leadership on Diversity (BILD)

INTERACTIVE THEATER

The Interactive Theater Program (ITP) workshops use live theater and audience participation to explore solutions to workplace interaction challenges. Performers present workplace scenarios on a range of diversity issues. Through facilitated dialogue the audience participants work through their own perspectives, emotions and assumptions to gain a greater awareness of the issues that can lead to conflict.

YOU ARE INVITED!

All faculty, staff, students, work groups, and departments interested in expanding their awareness of workplace issues and helping to foster an inclusive work environment are encouraged to attend.
